MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: TADS Name

1. The computer system known as TADS has been renamed the "Technical Analysis and Display System" vice "Telemetry Analysis and Display System." (U)

2. Since TADS became operational in early 1980 it has been used for more than the telemetry analysis initially planned, and applications are still expanding. The inter-active analysis of [redacted] data are examples of new uses for TADS. In light of these additions and planned upgrades for [redacted] processing, it is appropriate to more correctly refer to TADS as a "Technical Analysis and Display System." (AIUO)

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: Abolishment of the Technical Analysis and Display
System (TADS) Resource Package ☐

25X1

1. Effective with the 1983 resource display for the Congressional Budget Justification Book (CBJB), the TADS Resource Package has been abolished. The only remaining position was originally established to provide operating system software support and has been moved to Systems Programming. This position applies only to budgetary information at the resource package level. No change will be made in our T.O. The funds in the resource package have been distributed as follows:

Item	Resource Package	1981	1982	1983
Personal Services	System Programing	<input type="checkbox"/>
Contractual Services	Applications
Hardware Maintenance	Processing Mgt and and Operations
TOTAL				<input type="checkbox"/>

2. The decision to abolish the TADS Resource Package was based primarily on the fact that the system had been developed and was operational. Also, the funding levels during the three-year period did not warrant separate identification and management. Futhermore, the decision had been made that NFAC would directly budget for future enhancements beginning in 1983. The following coordination has been obtained for the actions necessary to implement the abolishment of the TADS Resource Package: Comptroller's office-☐
